Dave Marchetti: Animal Experiences 29 Argyle Ave, Riverside RI 02915 living-systems@cox.net 401-258-6412 www.bestanimalexperiencesbydave.com	Animal Experiences is a show combining fun facts about a number of the animals being shown with the opportunity for teens and preteens in the audience to hold and handle the animals on their own.		With teens it is no problem for me to do a group of 20 to 30 with just one more adult to help supervise the hands-on time.
Dean Watts: Rising Sun Jiu-Jitsu 1408 Atwood Avenue Johnston Rhode Island 02919 dean.rsjj@gmail.com 401-942-5425 www.rsjj.com	Our board-breaking and self-defense program teaches simple and safe jiu-jitsu skills through fun and interactive drills. All students in this program will get to break a wooden board.		For the teen program, every child will get to break a board, which are in limited supply. I recommend under 12 children but can accommodate more, but not everyone would be able to break a board.
Desiree Brunton: RI Museum of Science & Art (RIMOSA) 763 Westminster St. Providence Rhode Island 02903 dbrunton@rimosa.org 401-272-0404 www.rimosa.org	Space Origami: Is space origami a way to pass the time on a trip to Mars, or a cute way to fold paper to look like a rocket? Actually, neither! Participants in RIMOSA’s Space Origami program will learn how the principles of origami folding are applied by engineers to fit large payloads (satellites) into rockets bringing them to space. Participants will then experiment with packing and folding as they work to fit a model satellite into a model rocket. Then they will finish the program by making use of the “compliant mechanisms” used in origami to make their own moving structure to take home.		25
Gladys Cole: G.Cole Productions 940 Quaker Lane 2307 East Greenwich RI 02818 gladypawt@aol.com 401-391-1280 https://www.facebook.com/gcoleproductions/?ref=bookmarks	Introduction to Playwriting for Teens This workshop is audience participation through theatre games, movement exercises, & character development. Teens will practice creating characters outlines and short scenes.		20
Joel Beauchemin: Fiddle N' Fun 879 Tower Hill Rd. North Kingstown RI 02852 jbeauch21@cox.net (401)632-6865 facebook.com/fiddlenfun	Fiddle N’ Fun presents “Drums, Strings, and Other Things”. For ages 10 and up, this interactive workshop will explore different genres of music, songwriting, and techniques in “jamming”. Participants will also learn about basic acoustics and how musical instruments produce sound. Bring your own instrument, or use one provided for the workshop.		Librarians may determine size limit based on their space restrictions.

Maurice Eighme: Circus Dynamics 1887 Smith St. North Providence RI 02911 circusdynamics@gmail.com 401-323-5480 www.circusdynamics.com	I will be performing a space-themed juggling and balloon show. I will discuss topics including gravity, planets, stars, light, and the vastness of space. I will present these ideas using circus skills including juggling, hula hooping, flag spinning, slinky tricks, and balloon twisting. After the show I will run a short balloon twisting workshop where the kids learn to make their own balloon animal.		No size limit.
Molly Adams: Henna Your Heart Out 160 Hallville Rd. Exeter, RI 02822 hennayourheartout@gmail.com 401-741-9129	A fun, hands on program by Henna Your Heart Out shares the simple, traditional method of making safe and organic henna paste as well as a brief survey of henna's fascinating history and traditions. Temporary henna designs for all participants are included, as well as a brief but very important and dramatic presentation regarding EASY WAYS to avoid the dangers of so called black henna which is so often seen at fairs and festivals. An adulterated henna paste which contains the chemical PPD, black henna may cause severe burns and lifelong sensitivity to anything containing this chemical, such as hair dye. Henna artists who use all natural, safe henna are easy to spot if one knows just a few simple methods. I am easily able to create quick designs which relate to popular stories, such as celestial objects, lightning bolts, books, garden flowers or titles of books.		10
Rebecca Killian: Mermaid Masterpieces 185 Gibbs Ave Newport RI 02840 bexkillian@gmail.com 401-297-8274 facebook.com/mermaidmasterpieces	I teach kids step by step how to paint a painting.
